Dining Suggestions

Note: These suggestions and data are based on information we believe to be reliable. They are offered in good faith, but without guarantee, as pricing and hours are beyond our control. We recommend that teaching staff determine for themselves the suitability of these locations prior to their adoption. This list has not been reviewed, endorsed, or sponsored by the respective owners of any of these dining locations.

Invoice Friendly

These locations send invoices to Harvard rather than having the orderer provide payment. These locations are best for recurring meetings with a large group. If you would like to order through one of these companies, please contact your Course Coordinator.

These sites provide delivery options for many restaurants in the local Cambridge & Boston area. This is an excellent resource for those with food sensitivities and preferences. These companies often charge a delivery fee that may or may not place you over the ILF per-person limit. Additionally, these receipts may require the submission of a Missing Receipt Affidavit in addition to your reimbursement form. Be sure to verify that a payment method (e.g. payment via cash or credit card) has been clearly identified on your receipt prior to submitting your request for reimbursement.
